2025-27 Operating Budget Overview

Consumer Directed Employer Rate Setting Board

Office of Financial Management

Working together for the equitable future of every Washingtonian.

Overview and Purpose

- 2025-27 biennial budget context
- Revenue forecast and revenue updates
- Spending drivers
- Budget requirements
- Budget realities

Economic and Revenue Forecast Council

- Official state revenue forecaster
- Adopts quarterly forecasts of Near General Fund revenues for the current and the ensuing biennia
- Together with reserves from previous biennia, the forecasts determine available resources to support base budgets and new or adjusted policies

Current (February) Revenue Forecast

According to the state Economic and Revenue Forecast Council (March 2024):

- Unemployment rate 4.8% (April), employment growth continues
- GDP growth continues
- Revenue collections are forecasted to increase (Feb. compared to Nov.)
  - For the 2023-25 biennium, revenue increased by $122 million (+0.2%)
  - For the 2025-27 biennium, revenue increased by $215 million (+0.3%)
  - For the 2027-29 biennium, added in June
- Factors related to revenue forecast
  - International conflict
  - Economy (inflation)
  - Monetary policy (interest rates)

Major Revenue Sources – General Fund-State

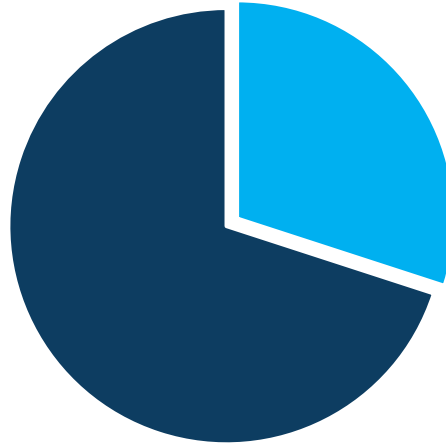

Sources of General Fund-State revenue
2025-27 estimates, February 2024 forecast

*Other includes revenue from liquor sales, tobacco taxes, insurance premiums, etc.

Majority of Near General Fund Spending is Required

About 70% of the budget is protected by law.

The other 30% is for new items or reductions.

Examples of required spending:

- Debt service
- Pension contributions
- K-12 basic education
- Entitlements (i.e., TANF, financial aid, Medicaid)
- Constitutionally protected court activities
- Transfers to Budget Stabilization Account

Examples of not required spending:

- Higher education
- Corrections
- Human services (i.e., state-only funded health care programs, public health)
- Natural resources
- Reserves

Base Budget

Carryforward Level

- Cost of ongoing programs, including workload and service changes directed by law and removal of costs considered non-recurring

Maintenance Level

- Cost of providing current services in the ensuing biennium
- Based on current appropriations adjusted for projected changes in caseloads

Caseload Forecast Council

- Prepares forecasts for utilization of state entitlement programs (i.e., public schools, long-term care, medical assistance, foster care, adoption support, adult and juvenile offender institutions and others)

2025-27 Budget Dates

- September 10 - Agency budget requests due
- October 1 - Collective bargaining deadline
- November 13 - Caseload forecast
- November 20 - Revenue forecast
- December 20 - Governor's proposal submitted to Legislature (based on November forecast)
- January - Legislative session begins
- March - Revenue forecast

Budget Timeline

2025-27 Budget Realities

- Collective bargaining agreements
- Economic and monetary policy factors
- Maintenance level and caseloads
- K-12 schools
- Initiatives
- Continued needs for homelessness and housing, behavioral health, health care, opioid crisis and other priorities

Financial Feasibility

Most CBAs are required by statute to be submitted to OFM by October 1 and “certified by the director of financial management as financially feasible for the state...”

Pay Increases Realize Broad Benefits

- Benefits to care recipients, workers, and communities:
  - Reduced staff shortages
  - Reduced turnover and associated costs
  - Increased productivity and improved quality of care
  - Increased financial security for workers
  - Boosted local economies

Pay Increase in WA: Economic Boost

- Case study: 2016 home care worker pay increase:
  - Increased worker pay: $90 million
  - Annual economic stimulus: $180 million
  - Private sector employment: +800 jobs
  - Sales tax revenue: +
  - State ROI: $4:$1

Greater Home Care Pay: Takeaways

- Washington's fiscal and economic conditions are strong. Lawmakers have many options to raise revenue.
- Improving pay for home care workers would promote racial, gender, and geographic equity.
- Improving pay would benefit the economy and communities.

Petition to the Consumer Directed Employer
Rate Setting Board

June 5, 2024

June 5, 2024

Dear Consumer Directed Employer Rate Setting Board,

The Consumer Directed Employer Rate Setting Board has been meeting starting this April 2024 to establish the Labor Rate for CDWA for July 1, 2025, through June 30, 2027.

This Labor Rate will determine the funding available for wages and benefits for individual provider and agency provider home care workers. Once this rate is set, CDWA and agencies, and SEIU 775, will negotiate a collective bargaining agreement on specific wages and benefits based on the funding available through the Labor Rate. Just like with our current Union contract, the rate and funding increase still need to be approved by the legislature during legislative session.

Despite having one of the best long-term care systems in the country, we are facing a critical and escalating workforce crisis. The low wages and inadequate benefits offered to home care workers make it difficult to attract and retain qualified individuals, leading to reduced care and longer wait times for those who need it most. After a period of historically high inflation from 2020 through much of 2023, our survey results indicate that over half of participating caregivers are still struggling to make ends meet, with many facing food insecurity and insecure housing. Caregivers also continue to have inadequate benefits, including a lack of reliable affordable healthcare, insufficient paid holidays and paid time off, and a retirement benefit that is insufficient to ensure retirement security.

We need to increase the Labor Rate so we can increase wages to a living wage and improve benefits so we can recruit and retain caregivers to serve the growing population of seniors and people with disabilities needing care.

We call on the Consumer Directed Employer Rate Setting Board to set a Labor Rate that allows home care workers to receive:

- Wages of $25/hour
- Continued affordable health care with reliable coverage so people don't lose their health care if their hours drop one month
- Meaningful increases to our retirement benefits
- More paid time off, paid holidays, and mileage pay

Sincerely,

SEIU 775 and caregivers:
