

you know

Trust your instincts...

Before you know what's wrong, you know something's not right.

- You know yourself. You know your friends. You know your family. Who else would know if something just wasn't right?
- Don't ignore major changes in grades and behavior. There may be a significant problem.
- Encouragement and support from friends and family may make the difference in whether the person gets help.

Mental health screenings should be part of every wellness medical visit, especially for adolescents and young adults.

Psychosis is when a young person finds it difficult to tell what is real from what is not real. It is characterized by a loss of some contact with reality.

- Among teenagers and young adults, psychosis is more common than insulin-dependent diabetes (affecting about three people in every one hundred).
- Most people experience psychosis for the first time between the ages of 15 and 25.
- Many things can cause psychosis, such as:
 - Prescription drugs
 - Illegal drugs
 - Medical conditions
 - Sleep deprivation
 - Extreme stress

Have you seen two or more of these warning signs?

- A drop in grades, or having trouble doing things that use to be easy
- Strange behavior or beliefs that are out of character and new
- Seeing or hearing things that others do not
- Not sleeping for days

Like diabetes, psychosis does not discriminate – anyone can be affected.
